- Collect data on viewer satisfaction, assess, and respond to viewership inquiries/concerns
- Improve efficiency of programming by maintaining databases, while working with Development and Administration to identify / secure funding for equipment/software upgrades
ECONOMIC FACTORS

PBS Guam continues to confront a series of unresolved factors which promote instability and hinder the success of the station absent creative management and planning. Continued scarcity in direct federal subsidies and the call for local austerity measures, challenge the station’s ability to meaningfully invest in technology and manage cash flow. Adding to the challenges faced by PBS Guam is the increasing number of online platforms that stream various media which negatively impact its viewership and therefore affects its ability to underwrite new local programming. Lack of production work for sister government agencies has been steadily declining and needs to be reinvigorated for PBS to meet its fundraising goals.

These factors coupled with the impending cut to its budget from the shortfall of the Territorial Educational Facilities Fund have the staff and management in a position of uncertainty. PBS Guam’s mission to create new informative local programming must continue and capitalize on the new administrations dedication to improving the education our students are receiving.
IN THE COMMUNITY

25TH ANNUAL READ A THON & PBS KIDS WRITERS AND ILLUSTRATORS CONTEST

This year marks 25 years of PBS Guam's annual Read A Thon! As you know, PBS Guam strives to continue our mission on promoting education and literacy in the community, and using our educational resources through public television and community outreach events to inspire those efforts. We are happy to provide services that educate, inspire, entertain, and express the cultural diversity for our island. In doing so, PBS Guam raises funds to be able to uphold to our mission and to be a leader in positive change educating and connecting shaping the future of our island through our children.

PBS Guam’s Read-A-Thon that will take place from September 4th, 2018 through September 21st 2018. Our goal is to not only promote early literacy to our island’s children, but to have them engage in family time with giving them an activity to bond with their families, participation in activities outside of the classroom, and in return are acknowledged and rewarded for their effort on making reading fun!

PBS Guam KCTF Channel 12 in conjunction with Kids Post, brings back the PBS Kids Writers and Illustrators Contest. This contest is designed to promote the advancement of children's literacy skills through hands-on, active learning. The contest empowers children to celebrate creativity and build literacy skills by writing and illustrating their very own stories.

For over 10 years, PBS Guam has been hosting this literacy-building contest with over 1,500 total submissions collected. This year's contest theme, 'My Summer on Guam,' starts June 11 and is open to incoming students from kindergarten through fifth grade.

Capital Assets and Long-Term Obligations
We have applied for a Department of Interior Technical Assistance Program grant in order to upgrade our Capital assets. If awarded to PBS Guam, a decades old goal of upgrading transmission and recording equipment to new state of the art equipment can finally be realized. This equipment will not only improve the stations level of production, it will increase development and underwriting as the station will be able to partner with government agencies to produce public service announcements, local sporting events and high school and college quarterly magazines and the like. Capital assets have decreased for a second year in a row due to depreciation of equipment determined to be beyond economic repair and or antiquated. The transmission tower was recently renovated due to rust and erosion, during that renovation, eight feet of excess height was removed. Also, as stated in prior audit coverage, ATSC 3.0 represents the next generation in digital tv. While the FCC has not voted to mandate these upgrades, this potential continues to represent an ongoing financial concern for the station.
