EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
Government of Guam Procurement Training and Certification
OPA Report No. 19-04, April 2019

Our review of the Government of Guam's (GovGuam) compliance with the Guam Community College (GCC) Procurement Program found that as of calendar year (CY) 2018, only 42 of the 62 GovGuam agencies have at least one employee who obtained Module 1 certification, the basic requirement of the procurement training. Only 26 of those 42 agencies have at least one employee who obtained certification in all four modules. Furthermore, only five of the 62 directors/administrators obtained Module 1 certification, with only two of them obtaining certification in all four modules. GovGuam personnel who are not trained and certified are prohibited from participating in government procurement.

Public Law (P.L.) 32-131, codified as Title 5 of the Guam Code Annotated (GCA) Chapter 5 §5141 mandates all GovGuam personnel responsible in procuring goods, services, or construction to receive the training and continuing education through the GCC Procurement Program, or equivalent training. GCC administers this program since 2012. GovGuam purchasing personnel are required to obtain the following modules depending on the purchasing capacity they perform:

- Module 1: Fundamentals and Principles of Procurement (Basic)
- Module 2: The Procurement Solicitation Process (Advanced)
- Module 3: The Procurement Review and Remedies (Administrative)
- Module 4: The Management and Administration of Procurement (Administrative)

Statistics of Agencies' Compliance with GCC Procurement Program

Our survey from GovGuam agencies showed that as of CY 2018:

- Only 27 of 47 line agencies, including the executive office, have employees who obtained Module 1 certification; 13 of these agencies have employees who were certified in all four modules.
- All 11 autonomous agencies have employees who obtained Module 1 certification. However, three of these agencies have only one to two employees who obtained certification in all four modules.
- The Mayors Council of Guam (MCOG) has 15 employees who obtained Module 1 certification. However, none was certified in all four modules.
- The Judiciary of Guam has seven employees certified in all four modules.
- The Guam Legislature has four employees certified in all four modules. One of them was a Senator from the 34th Guam Legislature.

Office of Public Accountability (OPA) Compliance

The employees of OPA responsible for administering procurement appeals or auditing of the purchasing activities of GovGuam, must receive the procurement training and continuing education to the extent required by law. As a best practice, OPA requires all employees to obtain certification in Modules 1 to 4. As of CY 2018, 10 of 13 OPA employees were certified in all four modules. Currently, the remaining three employees obtained Module 1 certification, and are working on obtaining certification on the remaining three modules.

Decrease in Procurement Appeals

Procurement appeals submitted to OPA revealed the need for further government procurement training. We reviewed the appeals filed from CY 2012 to CY 2018 to determine the impact of the procurement training in addressing this deficiency. We found that appeals filed decreased significantly from 19 in CY 2012, when GCC started provided the procurement training, to eight in CY 2018. Of the eight appeals filed in CY 2018, two of them pertained to prior appeals, and two were consolidated because they were related to the same procurement. Six of the eight appeals were ultimately dismissed, which shows a bigger decline in the number of new appeals filed. GovGuam's partial compliance with P.L. 32-131 may have contributed to the decline in procurement appeals and the likelihood of protests.

Other Matters

Title 5 GCA Chapter 5 specified that the Guam Procurement Advisory Council (the Council) should guide the GCC Procurement Program. Our review found that the Council has been inactive since 2014. As a result, GCC and GovGuam agencies lack the guidance on matters related to the procurement training, such as the continuing education program and determining required attendees. We recommend the Governor and Legislature take action to revive the Council.

Conclusion and Recommendations

Since GCC administered the procurement program in CY 2012, GovGuam agencies have partially complied with the procurement training and certification requirements. The purpose of this program is to ensure that employees are knowledgeable of the Guam Procurement Law in order to effectively and efficiently perform their jobs. Having employees properly trained in procurement may also prevent or reduce the number of procurement protests and appeals.

GovGuam procurement personnel may not participate in the government procurement if they have not obtained the mandated training and certifications. Therefore, we recommend all directors and administrators of line and autonomous agencies, mayors, and their procurement personnel obtain the required training and certifications according to their procurement capacity. To ensure GovGuam executive and legislative officials, and their staff handling procurement, have the basic understanding of the Guam Procurement Law, we recommend that they obtain certification on Module 1 and assess obtaining the additional three modules depending on their procurement involvement.

GCC plays an important role in implementing the procurement training and certification program. As more GovGuam personnel work towards obtaining the mandated training and certifications, we recommend GCC implement the continuing education program in consultation with the Council.

Disclosure

As a matter of disclosure, the Public Auditor was previously the Speaker of the 34th Guam Legislature and the author of P.L. 32-131. OPA, as a best practice, requires all its employees to complete the training and obtain certification in all four modules.

Introduction

This report presents the results of our review of the Government of Guam (GovGuam) entities' compliance with the procurement training and certification required by Public Law (P.L.) 32-131. Our scope covered calendar year (CY) 2012 through 2018, and included all line and autonomous agencies, the Mayor's Council of Guam (MCOG), the Office of Public Accountability (OPA), the Judiciary of Guam (Judiciary), and Guam Legislature (Legislature).

Refer to Appendix 1 for the objective, scope, and methodology.

Background

The objective of GovGuam procurement is to provide agencies with the goods and services they need to carry out their duties to the public efficiently and effectively. Those goods and services must be of the right quality and quantity at the lowest overall cost, and delivered on a timely basis. The procurement process should involve as much competition as possible, to ensure that the opportunity is open and fair to all who choose to do business with GovGuam.

Title 5 of the Guam Code Annotated (GCA) Chapter 5 and Title 2 of the Guam Administrative Rules and Regulations Division 4, collectively known as Guam Procurement Law and Regulations, provide the legal authority and guidance for GovGuam procurement. However, the laws and regulations governing the Guam procurement process are complex. Thus, P.L. 32-131, codified in 5 GCA Chapter 5 §5141, requires procurement personnel to be knowledgeable of the Guam Procurement Law and Regulations in order to effectively and efficiently perform their jobs. Refer to Appendix 2 for excerpts of 5 GCA §5141.

Training and Certification of GovGuam Procurement Personnel

P.L. 32-131 requires the Guam Community College (GCC) establish and administer an integrated program of academic, research, practical training, and continuing education, known as the "GCC Procurement Program" for GovGuam procurement personnel and other interested private or public participants. The law requires GCC to administer at least four modules of basic training, each with at least 18 hours of study and instruction.

GovGuam employees tasked to procure goods, services, or construction are required to receive the training and continuing education through the GCC Procurement Program or equivalent.

Subject matter areas are:

- a) Module 1: Fundamentals and Principles of Procurement (Basic) - This is an introduction to the procurement process, specifically understanding the Guam Procurement Law.
- b) Module 2: The Procurement Solicitation Process (Advanced) - This examines local Guam laws and regulations covering methods of source selection, including bidding, offers, and other methods of acquisition.

- c) Module 3: The Procurement Review and Remedies (Administrative) - This covers the legal aspects of procurement law dispute and review processes, and the remedies available. This examines three types of disputes, including those involving solicitation or award of contracts.
- d) Module 4: The Management and Administration of Procurement (Administrative) - This covers the management and administration of the entire procurement process, from inception to contract termination and closeout.

OPA employees responsible for administering procurement appeals or auditing the purchasing activities of GovGuam, must receive the procurement training and continuing education. GovGuam purchasing personnel and OPA are required to take these modules depending on the capacity they perform.

1. Level One Purchaser - which includes the procurement requisition approver, is required to obtain a Certificate of Enrichment (Basic) by taking Module 1 and passing the required written examination.
2. Level Two Purchaser - is required to obtain a Certificate of Enrichment (Advanced) by completing Modules 1 and 2, pass the written examinations, and a minimum number of years of purchasing experience prescribed by the Department of Administration (DOA).
3. Level Three Purchaser – which includes the Chief Procurement Officer (CPO), Procurement Administrator, Supply Management Administrator, Procurement Officer, or Head of Procurement, is required to obtain a Certificate of Enrichment (Administrative) by completing Modules 1 through 4, pass the written examinations, and a minimum number of years of purchasing experience as prescribed by DOA.

GCC is administering the GCC Procurement Program since CY 2012. The law requires reasonable hours of continuing education to maintain the certification level for each section administered by GCC in consultation with the Guam Procurement Advisory Council (the Council).

Results of Audit

Our review of GovGuam's compliance with the mandated procurement training and certification found that as of CY 2018, only 42 of the 62 GovGuam agencies have at least one employee who obtained Module 1 certification, the basic requirement of the procurement training. Only 26 of those 42 agencies have at least one employee who obtained certification in all four modules.

Furthermore, only five of 62 directors/administrators obtained Module 1 certification, with only two of them obtaining certification in all four modules. GovGuam personnel who have not obtained the mandated training and certifications are prohibited from participating in the government procurement.

Our review also found that:

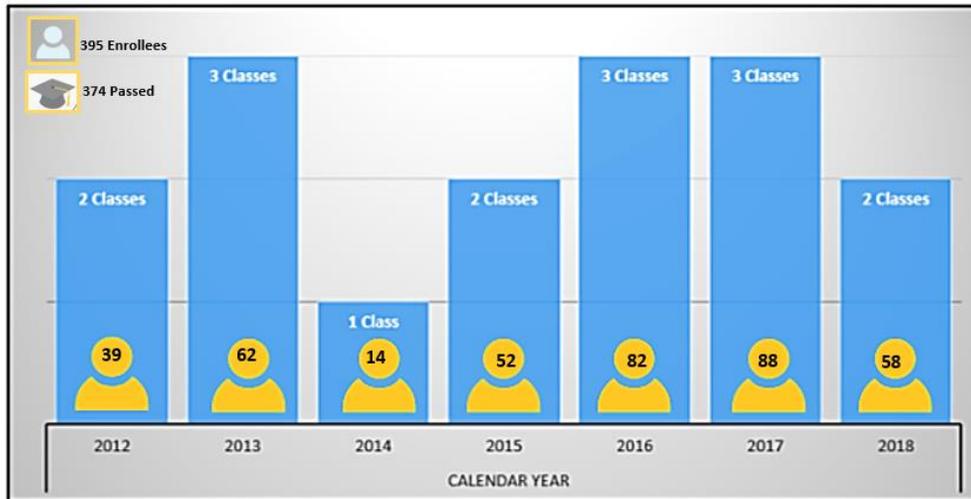

- Only 27 of 47 line agencies, including the executive office, have employees who obtained Module 1 certification; 13 of these agencies have employees who are certified in all four modules.
- All 11 autonomous agencies have employees who obtained Module 1 certification; however, three of these agencies only have one to two employees who obtained certification in all four modules.
- MCOG has 15 employees who obtained Module 1 certification, but no employee was certified in all four modules.
- The Judiciary has seven employees certified in all four modules.
- The Legislature has four employees certified in all four modules, one of them was a Senator from the 34th Guam Legislature.
- OPA has 10 of 13 employees certified in all four modules.

The employees of OPA responsible for administering procurement appeals or auditing of the purchasing activities of GovGuam, must receive the procurement training and continuing education to the extent required by law. As a best practice, OPA requires all employees to obtain certification in Modules 1 to 4.

GCC Procurement Program

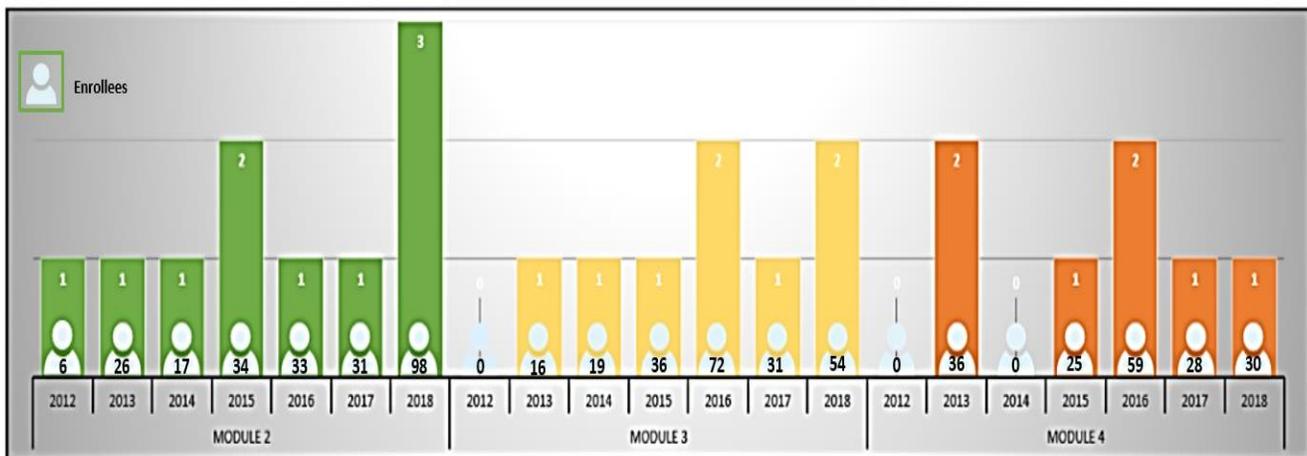

From CY 2012 to CY 2018, GCC has conducted 16 Module 1 classes, with an average of 2-3 classes per year. Enrollees during these periods totaled 395 employees, however, only 374 obtained certification. Refer to Figure 1.

Module 1 is a pre-requisite in order to take any of the remaining three modules. Modules 2 to 4 are required for higher levels of procurement responsibility and can be taken in any order. From CY 2012 to CY 2018, GCC administered ten classes on Module 2, eight classes on Module 3, and seven classes on Module 4. Refer to Figure 2.

Figure 2: Modules 2-4 Enrollees (CY 2012 to CY 2018)

In comparison with Module 1, which has 395 enrollees, Modules 2, 3, and 4 had 245, 228, and 178 enrollees, respectively. This is less because the minimum requirement for GovGuam employees handling procurement activities is to obtain Module 1 certification.

Statistics of GovGuam Agencies’ Procurement Certifications

We conducted a survey of all GovGuam agencies, to include all line and autonomous agencies, MCOG, Judiciary, and Legislature. We asked the number of personnel handling procurement and number of personnel who obtained the certification. Refer to Appendix 3 for the survey questions. We compared the results of the survey with procurement training data from GCC. Note that the period for our review was as of CY 2018, which would fall under the previous administration. In addition, the position and agency of the employees listed in GCC’s file may have already changed, but was not updated.

Executive Branch

The executive branch consists of five divisions: executive office, autonomous agencies, line agencies, MCOG, and OPA. GSA handles procurement for the line agencies, executive office, and certain autonomous agencies, but GSA’s scope of service excludes procurement of professional services. The procurement of professional services is handled by the respective agencies. For goods and services, GSA requires agencies to submit purchase requisitions through the AS400 system and approved by the respective director.

a. Executive Office

Although we did not receive any response from the former Governor’s office, data from GCC showed five employees attended Module 1, of which three completed all four modules. As for the former Lt. Governor’s office, the response from the survey showed one staff handled the procurement. However, based on GCC data, no staff attended the class. Note that the data presented was from the prior administration. Refer to Figure 3.

		Module 1	Module 2	Module 3	Module 4	All Modules

Lt. Governor's Office	1	0	0	0	0	0

b. Autonomous Agencies

Employees who assist in any of the procurement activities are required to obtain certification depending on the level of their purchasing responsibility. Moreover, anyone acting in the same capacity as the CPO should obtain certification on all four modules.

Eight autonomous agencies, which include GEDA, GMHA, GPA, GHURA, GVB, UOG, GWA, and GCC, handle their own procurement. All other autonomous agencies, such as GHC, GIAA, and PAG, procure through GSA. Note that the Directors/Agency Head and unclassified employees were from the prior administration.

Since GSA requires requisitions approved by the director, and for the agencies to handle their own procurement of professional services, there should have been more than one required attendee. However, based on Figure 4, certain agencies have only one personnel who has attended the procurement training. By having only one employee trained on procurement, an agency may not be fully equipped with the proper procurement knowledge and practices.

We noted:

- GEDA’s response to the survey showed only one employee handles their procurement. GEDA has only one employee who obtained certification on all four modules and one other employee on three modules.

- GHC’s response to the survey showed only one employee handles their procurement. This employee did not complete all four modules.
- GVB did not respond to the survey. Per GCC data, GVB has only one employee who obtained certification in Module 4.

Moreover, of the 11 autonomous agencies, no Director/Agency Head obtained any of the procurement certifications.

c. Line Agencies

Of the 47 line agencies, 42 responded to the survey. Five agencies (DOL, GACS, CQA, PUC, and PDSC) did not respond. Again, the Directors/Agency Heads and unclassified employees were from the prior administration. The data obtained from the survey and GCC showed that only 28 agencies have employees who obtained certification on Module 1. Of the 28, 13 agencies have at least one employee with certification on all four modules. Refer to Figure 5.

The survey showed that only nine of the 42 agencies identified Directors/Agency Heads who handle procurement. Only five agency heads obtained Module 1 certification and only two were certified in all four modules.

Of the 42 who responded to the survey, 21 agencies identified only one to two required attendees for their agency. Given that the preparation of the requisitions or procurement of professional services involves at least three employees, this suggests that agencies lack the understanding of who should take the procurement training.

d. MCOG

Of the 19 mayor’s offices, only six responded to our survey. Based on the six responses, one to two employees handle procurement for each office. GCC data showed 14 employees obtained certification on Module 1, but none on other modules. Refer to Figure 6. Further, none of the Mayors obtained certification on Module 1.

e. OPA

Title 5 GCA Chapter 5 §5141(b) requires any person within the OPA responsible for administering procurement appeals or auditing of the purchasing activities of GovGuam to receive the procurement training and continuing education to the extent required by law. As a best practice, OPA requires all employees to obtain certification in Modules 1 to 4.

As of CY 2018, 10¹ of the 13 OPA employees obtained certification on all four modules. The remaining three employees obtained certification in Module 1. Refer to Figure 7.

Judicial Branch

Three employees handle the Judiciary’s procurement per survey. GCC data showed that nine employees obtained Module 1 certification, of which seven employees obtained certification on all four modules. Refer to Figure 8.

Legislative Branch

Based on the survey response, one employee handles procurement. GCC data showed seven employees obtained certification on Module 1, and four obtained certification on all four modules. Note that the data obtained from the survey was from the 34th Legislature while GCC included senators and staff of the 32nd to 34th Legislature. Refer to Figure 9.

¹ Based on GCC data, at the end of CY 2018, OPA had 11 employees listed who completed all four modules. Two employees left the office and one other employee who completed all four modules was listed under a different agency.

We further reviewed the data we received from GCC to determine the attendance of Senators and found that only one from the 34th Guam Legislature has completed all four modules. The rest of the procurement training attendees were administrative staff.

Only GovGuam personnel, who obtained certification based on the GCC Procurement Program or equivalent, may participate in GovGuam procurement. Therefore, we recommend all directors, agency heads, and mayors obtain the required procurement certification and ensure their staff also receive the necessary level of procurement certifications.

To ensure our executive and legislative officials and staff handling procurement, have the basic understanding of the Guam Procurement Law, we recommend they obtain Module 1 certification and assess obtaining the additional three modules depending on their procurement involvement.

Decrease in Procurement Appeals from CY 2012 to CY 2018

Procurement appeals are complaints by aggrieved persons against the purchasing agency’s decision on: a) protest of method, solicitation or award; b) debarment or suspension; c) contract or breach of contract controversy; d) award determination during a pending protest or appeal; or e) other matters. Title 1 GCA §1909(k) mandated the Public Auditor to hear and decide on procurement appeals. The procurement appeals submitted to OPA revealed the need for further government procurement training. This was addressed when the Legislature passed P.L. 32-131.

Since GCC administered the training in CY 2012, procurement appeals have significantly decreased from 19 in CY 2012 to eight in CY 2018. Of the eight appeals filed in CY 2018, two of them pertained to prior appeals, and two were consolidated because they were related to the same procurement. Six of the eight appeals were ultimately dismissed, which shows a bigger decline in the number of new appeals filed at OPA. Refer to Figures 10 and 11.

Appeal No.	Status	Related/Consolidated with Prior Appeals

OPA-PA-18-008	Dismissed	-

GovGuam’s partial compliance with P.L. 32-131 may have contributed to the decline in procurement appeals and decreased the likelihood of protests. This is one indication that providing appropriate training to employees handling GovGuam procurement equips them with the necessary knowledge in order to perform their job efficiently and effectively and overall, achieve the objective of GovGuam procurement.

Other Matters

Inactive Guam Procurement Advisory Council

Title 5 GCA Chapter 5 §5141(c) specified that guidance on the GCC Procurement Program will be provided by the Council. The establishment of the Council aimed not only to provide guidance to GCC, but more so, to improve the current GovGuam procurement process. Our review found that the Council has been inactive since 2014. As a result, GCC and GovGuam agencies do not have the guidance it needs on matters related to the procurement training.

The Council is different from the Procurement Policy Office, which was reactivated under Executive Order No. 2019-10 (refer to Appendix 5) in April 2019. They each have separate duties. The Council's purpose is to research, evaluate, analyze, review, and make recommendations to improve, address, and modernize government procurement and contracting, while the Procurement Policy Office is to promulgate regulations.

We recommend the Governor and Legislature revive the Council.

Required Continuing Education Program

Title 5 GCA Chapter 5 §5141(g) requires GCC, in consultation with the Council, to administer a continuing education program for those who were granted certifications for Modules 1, 2, 3, and 4. The renewal of the certification may be on a yearly basis or another reasonable renewal period.

We learned that there is no specific continuing education program in place. According to GCC, an alternative to achieve the continuing education requirement is for those certified individuals to attend Modules 2 to 4 as a refresher course.

As more GovGuam personnel work towards obtaining the mandated training and certifications, we recommend GCC implement the continuing education program in consultation with the Council.

Conclusion and Recommendations

Since GCC administered the procurement program, GovGuam agencies have partially complied with the required procurement training and certification. The purpose of this program is to ensure that employees are knowledgeable of the Guam Procurement Law and Regulations in order to effectively and efficiently perform their jobs. In addition, having employees properly trained in procurement may also prevent or reduce the number of procurement protest and appeals.

GovGuam procurement personnel may not participate in the government procurement if they have not obtained the mandated training and certifications. Therefore, we recommend all directors and administrators of line and autonomous agencies, and mayors, and their procurement personnel, obtain the required training and certifications according to their procurement capacity. To ensure GovGuam executive and legislative officials, and staff handling procurement, have the basic understanding of the Guam Procurement Law, we recommend that they obtain certification on Module 1 and assess obtaining additional three modules depending on their procurement involvement.

GCC plays an important role in implementing the procurement training and certification program. As more GovGuam personnel work towards obtaining the mandated training and certifications, we recommend GCC implement the continuing education program in consultation with the Council.

Management Response and OPA Reply

In April 2019, we provided draft reports to the President of GCC and the Oversight Chairman on Procurement of the 35th Guam Legislature. In the same month, we met with GCC as well as the Oversight Chairman, to discuss the findings and recommendation. GCC and the Oversight Chairman generally concurred with our findings and recommendations.

GCC, the administrator of the procurement training, provided a management response. Refer to Appendix 4.

The legislation creating the Office of Public Accountability requires agencies to prepare a corrective action plan to implement audit recommendations, to document the progress of implementing the recommendation, and to endeavor to complete implementation of the recommendation no later than the beginning of the next fiscal year. We will be contacting GCC and the Oversight Chairman to provide a target date and title of the official(s) responsible for implementing the recommendation.

We appreciate the cooperation shown by GCC and all GovGuam agencies during the course of this audit.

In response to the Office of Public Accountability draft Audit Report – Government of Guam Procurement Training and Certification, the Guam Community College concurs with the findings, conclusion, and recommendations of the report. However, we offer the following revision as per our review of the draft report, discussions during the interviews, and the exit meeting with the OPA team.

1. Page 2, Executive Summary (2nd to the last paragraph) and Page 13 (last paragraph under Conclusion and Recommendations) , revise the last sentence to read:

"As more GovGuam personnel work towards obtaining the mandated training and certifications, we recommend GCC consider and implement the continuing education program in consultation with the Guam Procurement Advisory Council. The Council has an integral role in providing the necessary guidance for the continuing education program. We suggest the Governor and Legislature take action to revive the Council. However, it is important to note that the Governor has exercised her authority under Executive Order No. 2019-10 to reactivate the Procurement Policy Office.

Further, in terms of the required purchasing experience, we recommend the Department of Administration consider and implement as prescribed by P.L. 32-131 the minimum number of years of purchasing experience relative to the levels of Certification." We suggest this information be provided government-wide for agencies to use to determine qualification of the level of experience with the level of certification as required by the law.

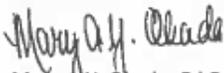

This revision to the aforementioned sections in the Executive Summary and under Conclusion and Recommendations is based on the following;

1. The inclusion of the Guam Procurement Advisory Council is essential to the continued success of the Procurement Program. The Council plays an integral role to provide the guidance to GCC in the planning and development of the Procurement Program as referenced in P.L. 32-131 in order to raise the standard of professional expertise in the field through the continuing education program.

2. The Governor of Guam signed the Executive Order No. 2019-10 on April 2, 2019 to reactivate the Procurement Policy Office.
3. P.L. 32-131 states the Department of Administration's (DOA) role in determining the minimum years of purchasing experience for the levels of Certification. The DOA's expertise is required in this effort especially because job titles, specifications and classifications are varied throughout all branches of the Government of Guam. The DOA's ability to set the minimum years of purchasing experience for relative positions would be able to serve as the standard to be applied government-wide for the levels of certification in procurement, inclusive of semi-autonomous and autonomous agencies.
4. A student who successfully completes each procurement module is awarded a Certificate of Enrichment and CEUs based on GCC's accreditation standards. Therefore, this same Certificate of Enrichment may be used by the Department of Administration and government agencies along with the DOA standard of the number of minimum years of purchasing experience to determine that the individual has met the level of certification required by law.
