EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
Governor and Lieutenant Governor's Transition Fund
Report No. 19-06, October 2019

Our audit of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor's Transition Fund found that the Transition Committee, appointed by the then Governor-elect, raised $691 thousand (K) in funds and spent $665K. The Transition Committee adequately accounted for the Transition Fund. In addition, we found:

- The Transition Fund paid for costs related to the preparation of the Governor-elect's inaugural ceremony and celebration and other transition costs as determined by the Transition Committee;
- The Transition Committee did not consistently follow their policy in the disbursement of the Transition Fund; and
- The Transition Committee acted beyond the 30-day limit and did not immediately transfer excess donations to the Treasurer of Guam.

Law Leaves Room for Interpretation on Proper Expenditures

Title 5 of the Guam Code Annotated Chapter 1 §1502(b) states, "...The Transition Committee shall have such duties as the Governor-elect may deem necessary for an orderly transition between administrations, which shall include, but not limited to, the preparation of the Governor-elect's inaugural ceremony and celebration."

The Transition Committee spent the Transition Fund as follows:

Description	Amount	%
Inaugural ceremony and celebration	$ 417,937	63%
Media, training, travel, and headquarter operations	126,436	19%
Renovation, equipment, and furniture for the executive offices	120,529	18%
Total	$ 664,902	100%

By including "but not limited to" in the provision, all the expenditures of the Transition Fund were technically allowed by law. However, more guidance is needed in the law to determine appropriateness and necessity of transition-related expenditures.

Requirement to Follow Guam Procurement Law Unclear

The law does not specifically state that the Transition Fund is subject to Guam Procurement Law. However, it could be implied pursuant to § 1502 (b), which states that the "Transition Committee shall act as an operating agency of the government". As an operating agency of the government and following a prudent-person rule, the Transition Committee could have followed the Guam Procurement Law.

The Transition Committee stated that the funds were not technically government funds until transferred to the Treasurer of Guam pursuant to 5 GCA § 1502 (e). They stated further that it was not practical for them to follow the procurement law because the transition period was in a tight timeframe. We noted a purchase for office equipment for $9K was paid to a company owned by one of the committee members. The Transition Committee found no issue with this purchase because they said it was the lowest price offered to them.

The Transition Committee also mentioned that although they did not follow Guam Procurement Law to make purchases, which may have caused a delay in the transition, no government funds were used and the renovation, equipment, and furniture purchased became government assets after the transition.

The Transition Committee should then ensure that any equipment and furniture purchased are properly recorded on the government's fixed assets inventory.

Transition Committee Did Not Follow Procedures and Inconsistent in its Practices

Although not required by law, we commend the Transition Committee for creating a Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) for the Transition Fund disbursements. However, we found several instances where the Transition Committee did not follow its SOP, and was inconsistent in its disbursement practices. For example, a $34K payment for event production and consulting services was requested and approved by the same individual.

Transition Committee Exceeded 30-day Mandated Deadlines for Financial Report and Transfer of Excess Funds

Title 5 GCA §1502(d) and (e) state that a report of the donations received and expenses paid shall be submitted to the Governor and the Legislature no later than 30 days after the assumption of office by the Governor-elect. The Transition Committee neglected to include the report on donations and expenses in the February 14, 2019 report they submitted to the Governor and the Guam Legislature. The Transition Committee submitted the report on donations and expenses on April 22, 2019, 75 days after the deadline. The Transition Committee cited "human error" as the reason for the late submittal.

Title 5 GCA §1502(e) states that donations in excess of the amount needed to pay expenses of the Transition Committee shall be the property of the Government of Guam and shall be deposited with the Treasury of Guam no later than 30 days after the assumption of office of the Governor-elect. The Transition Committee initially transferred $25K to the Treasurer of Guam on March 28, 2019, 50 days after the Governor-elect took office, and transferred the remaining funds of $1,508 on July 29, 2019, 173 days after the deadline. The Transition Committee stated that they were waiting for outstanding checks to clear before closing the account.

Conclusion and Recommendations

As the Transition Fund law leaves room for interpretation, it gives Transition Committees discretion on their spending. We understand that following Guam Procurement Law may not be practical considering the time constraints during the transition period, and while funds raised by the Transition Committee may not be considered "government funds", it is government-related and the Transition Committee has a fiduciary duty to ensure funds are spent properly and reported timely.

For better accountability and transparency of future transition funds, we recommended that the Guam Legislature amend the law to provide better guidance regarding transition funds. An example is to specifically state whether the transition funds are subject to Guam Procurement Law. Additionally, we recommended that the Guam Legislature require the transition report include a listing of fixed assets that will be transferred to the incoming administration. Furthermore, we recommended that the Guam Legislature consider amending the law to also require the Transition Fund financial reports be submitted to the Office of Public Accountability.

The Public Auditor did not participate in this audit. We thank the Governor and Lieutenant Governor's Transition Committee for their cooperation and transparency during this audit.

Office of Public Accountability

Introduction

This report presents the results of our audit of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor's Transition Fund. We initiated this audit at the discretion of the Public Auditor after several media outlets reported questionable expenditures by the Transition Committee.

The audit objectives were to determine whether the Transition Fund was: (1) properly accounted for, and (2) used in accordance with 5 Guam Code Annotated (GCA) Chapter 1 § 1502. Our scope was from November 13, 2018, the date in which the then Governor-elect appointed the Transition Committee members, to July 31, 2019. We detailed the audit objective, scope, and methodology in Appendix 1.

As a matter of full disclosure, the Public Auditor has recused himself from this audit because of an identified impairment in appearance due to familiarity. The Public Auditor did not participate in this audit.

This is the first time that a Governor and Lieutenant Governor's Transition Fund has ever been audited.

Background

Provisions on the Transition in the Office of the Governor are contained under 5 GCA § 1502.

- (a) For the period following the election of the Governor of Guam in November of every fourth year beginning in 1970, the incumbent Governor, if not the successful candidate, shall assist the Governor-elect in preparing for his new duties until he assumes office in January of the year following his election. Such assistance by the incumbent Governor shall include but not limited to making available to the Governor-elect or his designees office space, office supplies, clerical assistance and logistical support from other governmental agencies necessary for site and facility preparation, transportation, and security in conjunction with the inaugural celebration.
- (b) The Governor-elect is authorized to appoint a Committee which shall assist him during the transition period between his election and his assumption of office. The Committee shall comprise of such members as the Governor-elect shall deem necessary and shall be an operating agency of the government and remain such for a period not to exceed 30 days after the assumption of office by the Governor-elect. The Committee shall have such duties as the Governor-elect may deem necessary for an orderly transition between administrations which shall include, but not limited to, the preparation of the Governor-elect's inaugural ceremony and celebration.

- (c) Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the Governor-elect, or delegates designated by him in writing, shall have exclusive authority to obligate or make commitments against any appropriation made to carry out the provisions of subsection (b) of this Section, and the Certifying Officer of the Department of Administration shall certify all obligations or expenditures thereunder.
- (d) The Chairman of the Committee, who shall be appointed by the Governor-elect, shall, not later than 30 days after the assumption of office by the Governor-elect, prepare and submit a written report to the Governor and the Legislature regarding the activities of the Committee, together with recommendations for improvement of transition between administrations as provided by the provisions of this Section.
- (e) Notwithstanding any provisions of law, in addition to utilizing government funds and in order to keep the use of public funds to a minimum, the Committee may accept monetary and in-kind donations for the purposes set out in this Section, and may deposit donations in a private bank account to be administered by the Committee. A report of the donations received and expenses paid shall be included in the report made pursuant to subsection (d) of this Section. All such donations, being made to an interim government agency, shall be tax deductible pursuant to § 170 of the Internal Revenue Code. Donations in excess of the amount needed to pay expenses of the Committee shall be the property of the Government of Guam and shall be deposited with the Treasury of Guam no later than thirty days after the assumption of office of the Governor-elect.

Transition Committee Structure

In November 2018, the then Governor-elect appointed the Chairperson and Co-Chairperson of the Transition Committee. The Chairperson and Co-Chairperson appointed the following Subcommittees:

- Boards, Commissions, and Governance
- Economic Development
- Education, Culture, and Labor
- Federal, Foreign Affairs, Military Affairs, and Military Buildup
- Government Finances
- Health Care & Human Services
- Housing, Land, and Natural Resources
- Infrastructure and Transportation
- Public Safety

The Transition Committee created an Inaugural Finance Committee comprised of a Chairperson and Co-Chairperson. The Inaugural Finance Committee Chairperson then appointed four authorized expense approvers.

Transition Committee Payment Request and Authorization Process

The Transition Committee formulated its internal processes and procedures pertaining to the usage of the Transition Fund. Refer to Figure 1 for an illustration of the Transition Committee's process.

See Appendix 2 for the Transition Committee's Payment Request and Authorization Process.

Former Transition Committee

In November 2010, Governor-elect Edward Calvo appointed two individuals to serve as Co-Chairs on the Transition Committee. On February 07, 2011, the Transition Committee for the former Governor and Lieutenant Governor submitted sundry reports developed by specific transition subcommittees. However, the financial report detailing the Transition Committee's donations and disbursements was not attached.

We were informed that the former Transition Committee was able to form a Non-Profit Organization for the purpose of funding their inaugural activities. We attempted to confirm this with the Department of Revenue and Taxation. However, we did not receive a response as of the report issuance date.

Results of Audit

Our audit of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor’s Transition Fund found that the Transition Committee raised $691 thousand (K) in funds and spent $665K. Of the $665K spent, $418K (or 63%) was used for the inauguration ceremony and celebration and $247K (or 37%) was used for other transition costs.

The Transition Committee adequately accounted for the revenues and expenses in the Transition Fund. In addition, we found:

- The Transition Funds paid for costs related to the preparation of the Governor-elect’s inaugural ceremony and celebration and other transition costs as determined by the Transition Committee.
- The Transition Committee did not consistently follow their standard operating procedures (SOP) and practices in the disbursement of the transition funds.
- The Transition Committee exceeded the 30-day mandated deadlines as the:
 - Report on donations and expenditures submitted 75 days after the deadline; and
 - First transfer was made to the Treasurer of Guam 50 days after the Governor-elect took office. The remaining excess funds were transferred 173 days after the deadline.

Transition Committee Adequately Accounted the Transition Funds

The Transition Committee adequately accounted for the Transition Fund’s fundraising and disbursement activities report through the deposit and check register. The Transition Committee received $691K between December 2018 and March 2019, of which $661K came from donations, while the ticket sales from the People’s Ball and bank dividend payments added an additional $30K. Figure 2 shows the breakdown of cash received based on source.

Of the $691K funds raised, the Transition Committee spent $665K. Expenses for inauguration ceremony and celebration amounted to $418K (or 63%), while the other transition costs amounted to $247K (or 37%). Figure 3 shows the breakdown of expenditures by category.

See Appendix 3 for our compilation of the transition funds received and disbursed.

Transition Committee’s Use of Funds

Interpretation of Proper Expenditures

Title 5 GCA Chapter 1 § 1502 (b) mandated the Transition Committee to have such duties as the Governor-elect may deem necessary for an orderly transition between administrations which shall include, but not limited to, the preparation of the Governor-elect’s inaugural ceremony and celebration.

We observed that in addition to the inaugural ceremony and celebration (Ball, Mass, flag raising, and distinguished visitors’ dinner), the funds also paid $247K for other transition costs as determined by the Transition Committee. The Transition Committee cited “but not limited to” to justify other additional transition expenses not directly related to the Governor-elect’s inaugural ceremony and celebration. According to the Inaugural Finance Chairperson, the Transition Committee had no reservation on these purchases as they were necessary.

The $247K in other transition costs includes:

Renovation, equipment, and furniture for the executive offices	$120,529
Ads, social media boosters, and production and consulting services	50,511
Leadership training and catering services at training	34,036
Rent, office supplies, IT and other services, and catering services at headquarters	30,940
Travel to CNMI Governor’s inauguration and Washington DC trip	9,676
Others	1,273
<hr/> Total	<hr/> $246,965

As the law allowed discretion of the Transition Committee by including “but not limited to” in the provision, all expenditures were technically allowed by law. However, more guidance is needed in the law to determine appropriateness and necessity of transition-related expenditures.

In an effort to help determine appropriateness and necessity of transition-related expenditures, we recommend the Guam Legislature review and amend the law to require the transition report include a listing of fixed assets of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor’s offices that will be transferred to the incoming administration.

Unclear Whether to Follow Government of Guam Procurement Law

The law does not specifically state that the Transition Fund is subject to the Guam Procurement Law. However, it could be implied pursuant to § 1502 (b), which states that the “Transition Committee shall act as an operating agency of the government”. As an operating agency of the government and following a prudent-person rule, the Transition Committee could have followed the Guam Procurement Law.

We understand the time constraints that the Transition Committee had to deal with to get ready for the Governor-elect’s inaugural ceremony and celebration. However, the law does state that the Transition Committee shall “act as an operating agency of the government”, which may imply that the Transition Committee could have followed Guam Procurement Law in its purchases.

The Transition Committee stated that the funds were not technically government funds until transferred to the Treasurer of Guam. They stated further that it was not practical for them to follow the Guam Procurement Law because the transition period was in a tight timeframe. They also mentioned that although they did not follow Guam Procurement Law, the renovation, equipment, and furniture purchased became government assets after the transition. If this is the case, the Transition Committee should ensure that any equipment and furniture purchased using the Transition Fund are properly recorded on the government’s fixed assets inventory.

We proposed that the Transition Committee follow Guam Procurement Law to make the purchases. However, the Transition Committee did not agree with this proposition as the Guam Procurement Law provides limitations in purchasing. We found one purchase totaling $9K where the Transition Committee purchased office equipment from a company owned by one of the members. The Transition Committee explained that the requestors and approvers did their best to receive quotes from other vendors. The Transition Committee believed that they received the best product with the best value from the chosen vendor.

We recommend the Guam Legislature to review and amend the law to provide better guidance on the use of the Transition Fund. An example would be to specify whether the Transition Fund is subject to the Guam Procurement Law.

Transition Committee Did Not Consistently Follow Disbursement Policy

SOPs are documented processes to ensure services and products are delivered consistently every time. SOPs are often used to demonstrate compliance with the regulation or operating practices and to document how tasks must be completed. We commend the Transition Committee for creating an SOP for Payment Request and Authorization Process. Based on the SOP, at least three people will be involved in the disbursements process: the Requestor, Approver, and Check Signatory. The Transition Committee also utilized a Request for Payment Form to document proper approval.

For the 20 disbursements tested totaling $275K, we observed that the Transition Committee did not consistently follow its policy. There were several instances when the Transition Committee did not complete a Request for Payment Form when they needed to pay for a good or service. Of the 20 disbursements tested, we found 12 instances when the Request for Payment Form did not contain a signatory by the requestor, approver, or both, as well as one instance where the Transition Committee did not file a Request for Payment Form. There were also five instances when the Request for Payment Form was requested and approved by the same individual. For example, a $34K payment for event production and consulting services was requested and approved by the same individual.

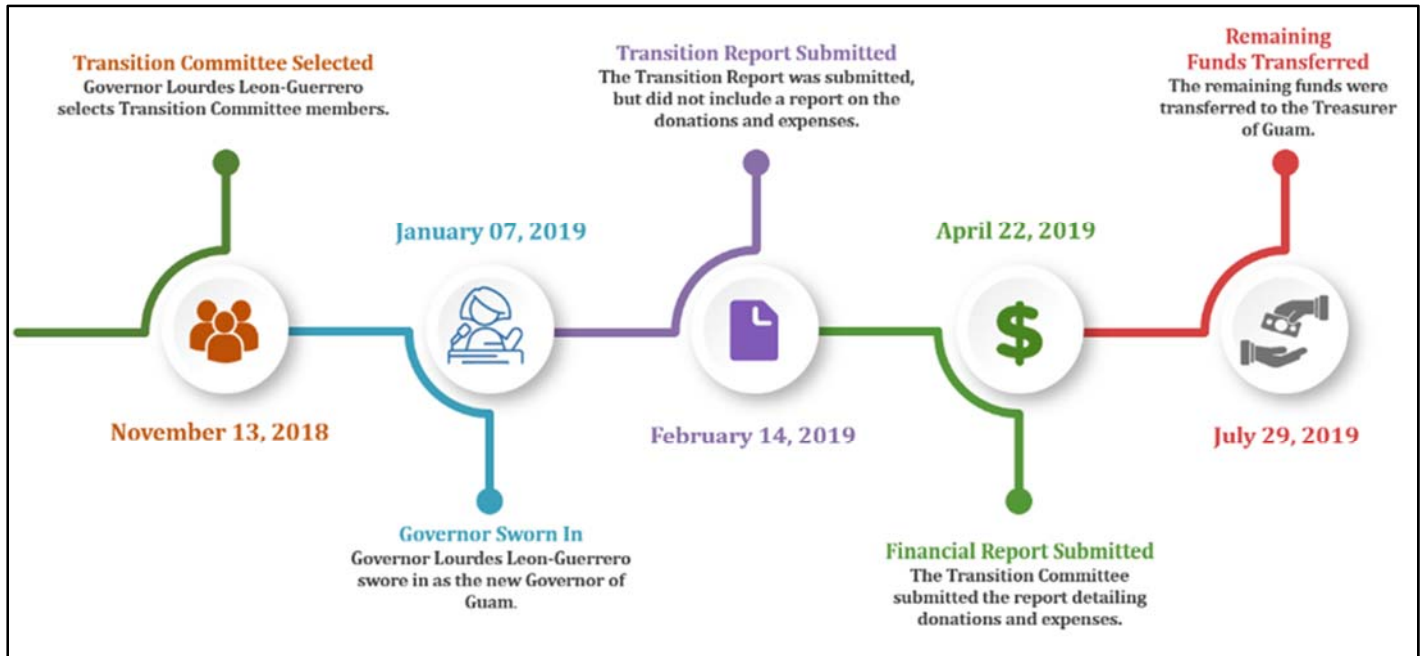

We also found that the Transition Committee deviated from the policy to meet timelines. According to the Inaugural Finance Chairperson, most requests were approved via phone calls and emails within the committee due to time constraints. For certain disbursements, a verbal approval was sufficient to sign a check. For these four disbursements totaling $193, the Transition Committee was not able to provide proof of approval because the Request for Payment Forms was not completed with the requestor and approver's signatures.

Although the Transition Committee did not consistently follow its policy in the spending of the Transition Fund, we noted that the Transition Committee had a reasonable internal control process in place as the invoice approver and check signatory was never the same individual.

Transition Committee Acted Beyond 30-Day Limit

Title 5 GCA § 1502 (b) states that the Governor-elect is authorized to appoint a Committee, which shall assist him during the transition period between his election and his assumption of office. The Committee shall comprise of such members of the Governor-elect shall deem necessary and shall be an operating agency of the government and remain such for a period not to exceed 30 days after the assumption of office by the Governor-elect. See Figure 4 for a timeline of the Transition Committee's events.

Transition Report Submitted 75 Days After Deadline

Title 5 GCA § 1502 (d) stated that the Chairman of the Committee shall no later than 30 days after the assumption of office by the Governor-elect, prepare and submit a written report to the Governor and the Legislature regarding the activities of the Committee, together with recommendations for improvement of transition between administrations. Under § 1502 (e), the donations received and expenses paid shall be included in the written report.

The Governor was sworn into office on January 7, 2019. The Transition Committee submitted the Transition Report on February 14, 2019. However, such submission did not include the report on donations and expenditures as required by law.

The Transition Committee submitted the report on donations and expenses on April 22, 2019, 75 days after the deadline. An addendum to the initial report was submitted on July 5, 2019, regarding subsequent deposits and disbursements as well as the status of the closure of the Transition Fund account. See Appendix 4 for the Fundraising and Expenditure Activities Report submitted to the Guam Legislature.

According to the Inaugural Finance Chairperson, it was an oversight on their part as they assumed that the finance report was included in the February 2019 report submission. It was not until some time had passed that the Transition Committee found the section was missing and worked to turn it in.

For better accountability and transparency for future transition committees, we recommend that the Guam Legislature review and amend the law to cite that the Transition Fund financial reports be submitted as well to the Office of Public Accountability.

Remaining Funds Not Transferred to the Treasurer of Guam Immediately

Title 5 GCA Chapter 1 § 1502 (e) mandated the Transition Committee to deposit excess funds to the Treasurer of Guam no later than 30 days after the Governor-elect’s assumption of office. This mandate would have given the Transition Committee a deadline of February 6, 2019. The Transition Committee received the last donation of $25K on February 13, 2019, which they transferred to the Treasurer of Guam on March 28, 2019. The Transition Committee could have transferred this last donation immediately to the Treasurer of Guam, but they waited 43 days after its receipt. The Transition Committee transferred the remaining balance of $1,508 to the Treasurer of Guam on July 29, 2019, 173 days after the deadline.

The Inaugural Finance Chairperson explained that they were aware of the deadline, but it was a judgment call on the Transition Committee’s part to transfer the funds at a later time. The Transition Committee explained that it was a good move on their part as the bank account received an additional $300 in interest that was transferred to the Treasurer of Guam.

Keeping the money for more than the time allowed could be a violation of the law. There may be operational issues hindering the Transition Committee to transfer the funds within the 30-day period, however, it could have documented its effort to comply within the set timeline.

Conclusion

Our audit of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor's Transition Fund found that the Transition Committee raised $691K and spent $665K. The Transition Committee adequately accounted for the revenues and expenses in the Transition Fund. In addition to the inaugural ceremony and celebration, the Transition Fund paid for $247K in other costs as determined by the Transition Committee. As the law was vague on what costs are necessary for an orderly transition, it allowed discretion to the Transition Committee on how and where the funds will be spent.

We commend the Transition Committee for creating an SOP in its disbursements, but it was not consistently followed. We understand that following the Guam Procurement Law may not be practical considering the time constraints during the transition period. However, as excess funds are transferred to the Government of Guam, it is also in the best interest of the public that the funds are spent properly and reported timely.

The Transition Committee submitted the report on donations and expenditures 75 days after the deadline and transferred the excess donations 43 and 173 days after the deadline. These violated Title 5 GCA § 1502 (d) and (e).

For better accountability and transparency in handling the Transition Fund, we recommend that the Guam Legislature review and amend the law to:

1. Require the transition report include a listing of fixed assets of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor's offices that will be transferred to the incoming administration;
2. Specify whether the Transition Fund is subject to Guam Procurement Law; and
3. Require the Transition Committee to submit the financial reports to the Office of Public Accountability, simultaneous with the submission to the Governor and the Guam Legislature.

We transmitted a draft report to the Transition Committee in October 2019 for their official response. In the same month, we met with the Transition Committee and Oversight Chairperson to discuss the draft report and our findings and recommendations. The Transition Committee responded as follows:

1. Dedication to Transparency

The Transition Committee stated that there are two ways in which the use of public funds can be minimized for the inaugural festivities. The Transition Committee stated that they opted to organize under 5 GCA § 1502 (d) while many gubernatorial transition committees form a Section 501(c)(4) nonprofit organizations for the purpose of funding inaugural activities.

OPA Reply: OPA attempted to confirm this statement with the Department of Revenue and Taxation. However, we were unable to confirm this as of the release of this report.

2. Interpretation of Proper Expenditures

The Transition Committee disagreed with this finding and stated that the Committee sought donations to fund all of its operations, which allowed the Transition Committee to organize a memorable inaugural celebration and provide proper furnishings and equipment for the incoming administration. Further, the Transition Committee stated that the law leaves no room for interpretation and that all the Committee's expenditures were proper and wholly sanctioned by the law.

OPA Reply: The focus of this finding was to illustrate what the Transition Committee spent transition funds on. OPA finds that the law does give discretion to the Transition Committee by including "not limited to" in the provision. We did not determine appropriateness and necessity of transition-related expenditures.

3. Unclear Whether to Follow Government of Guam Procurement Law

The Transition Committee disagreed with this finding and stated that the donations made to the Transition Committee are not considered the property of the Government of Guam until any excess of the amount needed to pay expenses of the Committee is deposited with the Treasury of Guam no later than 30 days after the assumption of office of the Governor-elect. Further, the Transition Committee stated that all expenditures were made prior to the conversion of the donations and the law did not apply to Transition Committee activity during its existence.

OPA Reply: 5 GCA § 1502 (b) states that the Committee shall comprise of such members as the Governor-elect shall deem necessary and shall be an operating agency of the government and remain such for a period not to exceed 30 days after the assumption of office by the Governor-elect. Therefore, the law implies that as an operating agency of the government, the Transition Committee could have followed the Guam Procurement Law.

The focus of the finding was to seek clarification on whether Guam Procurement Law should apply to the expensing of the transition funds for future committees

4. Transition Committee Did Not Consistently Follow Disbursement Policy

The Transition Committee disagreed with this finding and stated that the Committee, without intervention, developed its own standard operating policies and procedures. The Transition Committee stated that further inspection of the documents will show that policies were followed.

OPA Reply: Although it was not required, the Transition Committee developed standard operating policies and procedures in the disbursement of transition funds, which we used as criteria to test their compliance. We found 18 instances totaling $250K where the Transition Committee did not follow its standard operating policies and procedures.

5. Transition Committee Acted Beyond 30-Day Limit

The Transition Committee disagreed with this finding and stated that the Committee chose to avoid legal liabilities and honor its obligations to keep the account funded until all appropriate expenditures cleared. The Transition Committee further stated that the Committee worked diligently to provide the excess, which included an unexpected interest income, to the Treasurer of Guam.

OPA Reply: The Transition Committee had ways to monitor all check disbursements made. Therefore, they could have retained in the bank the amount sufficient to pay for those disbursements and transferred the excess funds to the Treasurer of Guam on or before the deadline.

See Appendix 5 for the Transition Committee's official response, which excludes their attachment to the bank's Terms and Conditions. This attachment will be made available to the public upon receipt of official request.

The legislation creating the Office of Public Accountability requires agencies to prepare a corrective action plan to implement audit recommendations, to document the progress of implementing the recommendation, and to endeavor to complete implementation of the recommendations no later than the beginning of the next fiscal year. We will be contacting the Guam Legislature to provide the target date and title of the official(s) responsible for implementing the recommendations.

We appreciate the cooperation and assistance of the Transition Committee and the Office of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor during the course of this audit.

Appendix 1:Objectives, Scope, and Audit Methodology

The audit objectives were to determine whether the Transition Fund was: (1) properly accounted for, and (2) used in accordance with 5 GCA, Chapter 1 § 1502. The scope of this audit was the Governor and Lieutenant Governor's Transition Fund from November 13, 2018 through July 31, 2019.

Methodology

The methodology included the review of pertinent laws, rules and regulations, policies and procedures, and other relevant documents pertaining to the Transition Committee's use of the Transition Fund. The work was carried out primarily at the Office of the Governor located in Adelup, Guam, and at the Office of Public Accountability.

We also:

1. Researched hotline tips and similar audit reports with the same topic.
2. Researched other transition teams' best practices in terms of policies and practices in the use of the Transition Fund.
3. Conducted interviews with the Transition Committee to gain an understanding of the processes.
4. Identified pertinent laws, rules, and regulations as audit criteria.
5. Researched rules and regulations to confirm whether the Transition Committee could have elected to become a Non-Profit Organization for the purpose of funding their activities.
6. Obtained check disbursements to determine expenditures using the Transition Fund. We judgmentally selected and tested 20 out of 173 transactions to test against the Transition Committee's SOP.
7. Obtained bank statements (December 2018 through July 2019) to reconcile the deposit register and the check register.
8. Obtained and reviewed copies of pertinent documentation relative to fundraising and spending activities.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards for performance audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain sufficient, appropriate evidence to provide a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives. We believe the evidence obtained provides a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives.

DEDICATION TO TRANSPARENCY

On November 13, 2018, the Leon Guerrero Tenorio Transition Committee was formed pursuant to 5 G.C.A. § 1502. At the time, it was no secret that the government of Guam was suffering from financial difficulties. To allow the prior administration to finish the calendar year without additional burdens on the budget, the Committee opted to seek donations to fund its operations.

There are two ways in which the use of public funds can be minimized for the inaugural festivities. First, 5 G.C.A. § 1502(e) allows the Transition Committee to accept "monetary and in-kind donations" and may deposit these donations in a private bank account to be administered by the Committee. Second, many gubernatorial transition committees form a section 501(c)(4) nonprofit for the purpose of funding inaugural activities. A 501(c)(4) is a tax-exempt nonprofit which must not be organized for profit and must be operated exclusively to promote social welfare, such as by bringing about civic betterment and social improvements. The most well-known 501(c)(4) in Guam is probably the former First Lady's organization, Rigalu, Inc.

The Transition Committee opted to organize under 5 G.C.A. § 1502(d). This best promoted Governor Leon Guerrero's mission towards transparency. Different from 501(c)(4), the § 1502(d) organization required that: (1) all donors' identities be disclosed; (2) unexpended funds be transferred to the Government of Guam; (3) all funds collected be expended; and (4) full financial reports be provided to the Legislature. This response continues with the mission to remain transparent.

AUDIT FINDING(S)

OPINIONS OUTSIDE OF AUDIT PURVIEW

It is concerning that the Office of Public Accountability makes opinions outside of its audit purview. Several of its "findings" are made in hindsight and are more advisory than appropriate for audit. Any comments regarding the activities of the Leon Guerrero Tenorio Transition Committee should be limited to the body of law governing at the time of such activities. The Transition Committee explicitly chose to be transparent and acted with great deference to the law. Its prudence should be applauded.

ALL EXPENDITURES MADE BY THE TRANSITION COMMITTEE WERE PROPER AND AUTHORIZED BY LAW.

5 G.C.A. § 1502(a) states that the incumbent Governor shall assist the Governor-elect in preparing for his new duties and such assistance "shall include but not be limited to making available to the Governor-elect or his designees office space, office supplies, clerical assistance, and logistical support from other governmental agencies necessary for site and facility preparation, transportation, and security in conjunction with the inaugural celebration." (Emphasis added). It further states, "[a]ll expenses authorized by this subsection (a) shall be paid out of the current operations budget of the Executive Branch of the government notwithstanding any other provisions of law or regulations to the contrary."

In subsection (b), the Governor-elect is authorized to appoint a Committee which will assist her during the transition period, and such Committee will have such duties "as the Governor-elect may deem necessary for an orderly transition between administrations which shall include, but not be limited to, the preparation of the Governor-elect's inaugural ceremony and celebration." 5 G.C.A. § 1502(b) (emphasis added). "[I]n order to keep the use of public funds to a minimum", the Committee may accept monetary and in-kind donations "for the purposes set out in this Section." 5 G.C.A. § 1502(e) (emphasis added).

Knowing the financial circumstances surrounding the Government of Guam resources at the time, the Transition Committee, with the concurrence of then Governor-elect and Lieutenant Governor-elect, decided to seek donations to fund all its operations. The decision allowed the Transition Committee to organize a memorable inaugural celebration and provide proper furnishings and equipment for the incoming administration. The law leaves no room for interpretation. All the Committee's expenditures were proper and wholly sanctioned by the law.

GUAM PROCUREMENT LAW CLEARLY DOES NOT APPLY TO NON-PUBLIC FUNDS.

Title 5, Chapter 5 of the Guam Code Annotated applies only "to every expenditure of public funds... by this Territory..." See 5 GCA § 5004 (b) (emphasis added). Donations made to the Transition Committee are not considered property of the Government of Guam until "any excess of the amount needed to pay expenses of the Committee" is deposited with the Treasury of Guam no later than thirty days after the assumption of office of the Governor-elect. 5 GCA § 1502(e). All expenditures were made prior to the conversion of the donations. The donations continued to be non-public funds until thirty days after inauguration. Therefore, the procurement law did not apply to Transition Committee activity during its existence. Even so, the Transition Committee was committed to ensuring that every expenditure benefitted its activities and not an individual. Purchases were made with qualitative and economic factors in mind.

GUAM LAW NEITHER MANDATES NOR SUGGESTS STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES FOR EXPENDITURES OF NON-PUBLIC FUNDS.

As previously stated, procurement law does not apply to non-public funds. In fact, the government of Guam has no authority over non-public funds. The Transition Committee, without government intervention, developed its own standard operating policies and procedures. The audit report indicates that there may have been one instance where those policies were not followed. However, further inspection of the documents will show that policies were followed.

THE TRANSITION COMMITTEE APPROPRIATELY KEPT ITS BANK ACCOUNT FUNDED TO COVER ANY OUTSTANDING ITEMS.

The Transition Committee's credit union account disclosures indicate that when an account is closed, account owners are "responsible for leaving enough money in the account to cover any outstanding items and charges to be paid from the account."¹ The disclosures also state that "[i]f a check, item or transaction is presented without sufficient funds in [the] account to pay it, [the credit union] may, at [its] discretion, pay the item (creating an overdraft) or return the item for insufficient funds (NSF)."² An account owner would face not only fees, but also legal liabilities, if he/she irresponsibly defunded and closed an account prior to the clearing of any outstanding checks, items or transactions.

The Transition Committee did not purposefully continue to operate past the thirty day limit.³ Here, the Transition Committee chose to avoid legal liabilities and honor its obligation to keep its committee account funded until all appropriate expenditures had cleared. Once those transactions cleared, the Committee determined that there were funds in "excess of the amount needed to pay expenses of the Committee." The Committee diligently worked to provide the excess, which included an unexpected interest payment, to the Treasurer of Guam.

SINGLE SUBSTANTIATED FINDING

The Transition Committee failed to timely provide financial information when transmitting the final transition report to the Legislature. The law provides adequate guidance when it instructed that the chairperson of the ³ As noted several times in the OPA's report, the Transition Committee ceases to exist and may not operate in any official capacity thirty days after the Governor-elect takes office. However, prior members of the Transition Committee continue to volunteer their time to fulfill the Governor's mantra of transparency and provide the Office of Public Accountability with all of its requests.

Official Agency Response Excerpts

Committee shall prepare and submit a written report to the Governor and the Legislature, to include a report of all donations received and expenses paid by the committee, no later than thirty days after the assumption of office by the Governor-elect. 5 GCA §§ 1502(d) & (e). Several reasonable factors, mostly human error, contributed to the inadvertent omission to the final transition report. Even so, the law is clear. And because the Transition Committee chose to fundraise under § 1502, when previous administrations did so under 501(c)(4), the committee had an obligation to supply, without delay, the financial information along with the report.

CONCLUSION

The Transition Committee continues to promote Governor Leon Guerrero's dedication to be transparent. While it is unfortunate that the financial reports were inadvertently omitted from the Transition Committee's initial submission to the Legislature, all of the committee's actions went over and beyond what was required by law. The activity was all geared towards promoting a seamless transition without any impact to the general budget. Any funds collected in excess of the amount needed to pay for the expenses of the committee were diligently transferred to the Treasurer of Guam.
